TRAINING DOES NOT GUARANTEE EMPLOYMENT

Red Travel Academy prepares candidates for professional opportunities in the aviation industry. However, completion of a training program does not guarantee employment with an airline or aviation company.

Recruitment decisions remain the responsibility of each employer and may depend on eligibility, language proficiency, interview performance, medical requirements, document verification, vacancies and the employer's recruitment process.

Where applicable, eligible candidates may be connected with relevant recruitment or placement opportunities.

The final employment decision always remains with the airline or employer.
